Training Faithful Trainers (TFT)

You have been learning how to train other believers from established churches. Along the way, you have been held accountable to share the Gospel with lost people, because this is the vital task that will reach our world for Christ. As trainers, we must always be on the front line to share our faith boldly with those who are not believers, just as our brothers and sisters did in Acts. If you haven't already led someone to Christ, it will eventually happen if you keep sharing the Gospel effectively. Never give up!

When someone comes to Christ, you must be prepared to train that person immediately. Jesus sent us to make disciples, and you are a disciple maker – a trainer of trainers! But don't use Reboot to train new believers because they are not ready for the in-depth study of the book of Acts. They must be taught the basics of Christian faith, or else they may fall away and be ineffective.

Training Faithful Trainers (TFT) is designed for new believers who have little or no church background. You will find TFT amazingly similar to Reboot as the training sessions follow the very same "AIM Pattern" that you have been using for the past several weeks.

The primary difference is the actual material which you teach them. Also, TFT participants meet every week because new believers need the consistent, ongoing nurture of disciple-makers to help them on their new journey.

Today, we will simply review the Introduction and the 6 Lessons of TFT. It is important for you to become familiar with this material so you can train new believers right away.

Use your own stories to teach these points

► STOP NOW and take time to familiarize yourself with the TFT materials (handout - entire set of TFT materials).

Train everyone you can train!

If the person is a believer from an established church background, use Reboot.

If the person is a new believer without significant church background, use TFT.

If the person is not a believer, share the Gospel!

Assignment
